THE DIRECTOR'S LATEST ROMANCE HAS PUT MADONNA IN A JEALOUS SPIN!

MADONNA IS SAID TO BE FUMING AFTER HER EX GUY RITCHIE STEPPED OUT WITH HIS LATEST HOT DATE – NONE OTHER THAN SUPERMODEL ELLE MACPHERSON!

Guy, 40, and Elle, 45, enjoyed an intimate late-night dinner at London's Notting Hill Brasserie last week, slipping out separately to try and fool the gaggle of younger than his 50-year-old ex-wife Madge.

In October last year – just days after his divorce was finalised – Guy was spotted visiting the hotel of beautiful British stage actress, Kelly Reilly, 31.

Earlier this year he was seen leaving a party with Gemma Khan, 35, and last month Sherlock Holmes producer Lauren Meek, 32, was reportedly staying with him at his London home. He was also linked to his Sherlock Holmes waiting photographers after parting ways well after midnight.

"It certainly looked like a date. They were very cosy," says an onlooker. "They were laughing and whispering in each other's ears. Guy looked utterly smitten!"

Elle – who split with fiancé Arpad Busson, with whom she has two young children, in 2005 – has previously been linked to musician Bryan Adams and Brit millionaire Damian Aspinall.

Guy himself has been no wallflower since his divorce – the director has been linked to a string of women considerably female lead, The Notebook star Rachel McAdams, 30.

But Guy – whose friends say has been "sowing his wild oats" after years of being trapped in a "sexless" marriage – is taking his dates with the Aussie model a lot more seriously.

"Guy is a very eligible bachelor who has fallen for a very eligible bachelorette in Elle," says a source. "And while Madonna is having a laughable fling with a publicity hungry kid [Jesús Luz], Guy has scored himself a date with a supermodel. Talk about getting even with the ex!" ★
