SOFTLY DOES IT

Colour stormed the shows but the front row played in neutral territory, wearing desert tones in directional shapes. Black base pieces added a graphic edge.

WE'RE HAVING A PINK FIT!

ASHLEY Olsen wears...peachy pink? Stop press! But seriously, this is big (fashion) news, and proves what we've known for some time. While they are often referred to as soft, pastel or sorbet shades, let's get one thing straight – there is nothing nanna about these tones (reference Ms Olsen in Balenciaga). And that's a good thing, because we don't plan on fading into the background now daylight saving has kicked in. You can go the fun, girly way with a light knit or lace top and vintage bag (v chic) or you can add pop brights or clash it with tan. Either way, have fun and work it like Sienna. It's spring after all.
