➤ Gucci has launched a range of bags and wallets as part of their Valentine's Collection. This red Patent Lamb Leather Boston Bag $1575 and Patent Lamb Leather Wallet $410 are ideal Valentine's gifts decorated with hearts, adorned with a sweet bow and, of course the label's signature logo. Both items are part of the spring gift catalogue, which also includes accessories such as shoes, bags and belts. Gucci Stockist: 9282 4299; www.gucci.com

➤ Little Joe has really stepped it up with the launch of their next autumn/winter collection and a new jewellery line. The Little Joe Jewellery collection was inspired by the travels of Little Joe creator Gail Elliott, who began collecting souvenirs from her favourite destinations. The delicate designs are threaded with leather for a luxe, edgy look. The collection includes leather bracelets and pendants that can be worn layered around the neck or the wrist. Gail's fall/winter clothing collection, Velvet Underground, combines feminine signature styles with edgy creations including leather skirts. Available in Little Joe Boutiques. ➤ Sportsgirl has branched out, collaborating not only with young Aussie labels on capsule collections but also international names. Over the next few months, Sportsgirl will stock capsule collections from international designers such as RoryBeca, TrashandLuxury, FryeBoots, CCSkye and TristanBlair — all favourites with celebrities. One of my favourites is from Sydney-based label Maurie and Eve (dress pictured) and includes floaty frocks and tops, cutesy overalls and cowboy fringing. Available now at Sportsgirl until April. Check it out on www.sportsgirl.com.au
